Lewis Sears Livingston

SEP 1, 1923 - JUN 29, 2015

Lewis Sears Livingston, age 91, died on June 29, 2015, because he was “too old.” He was born to William R. and Afton S. Livingston on September 1, 1923, in Holladay, Utah. He married Lois Brown on August 3, 1945, in the Logan temple and they had 3 children. In 2001 Lewis suffered a stroke which took his powerful command of language. His beloved Lois died in 2006.

Lewis graduated from the University of Utah law school and worked at Salt Lake Abstract Company which became Western States Title Company. He skillfully handled real estate sales, boundary and easement disputes, and title insurance in northern Utah. He served as chairman of the real property section of the Utah State Bar, as a member of the Title Standards Committee, as president of the Utah Land Title Association, and as Title Insurance Examiner for the State of Utah.

Lew enjoyed playing tennis, first with his brothers and then with friends, neighbors, and anybody with a racket. His tennis-playing friends kept his court busy, and his tennis racket tie clip was his trademark.

Lewis was active in the LDS Church and served in his stake presidency, as president of the California Anaheim Mission 1978-81, as a bishop, and as a sealer in the Salt Lake Temple.

Lewis is survived by his children Kay (Milt) Larsen; Clyde (Marjean); and Marilyn (Lynn) Cooper; 7 grandchildren, and 21 great grandchildren. He was predeceased by his wife, sister Virginia, and brothers William, Grant, and Wallace.

Funeral services will be held on 12:00 Noon, Thursday, July 2, 2015 at the Olympus Hills Ward, 4176 Adonis Drive, Salt Lake City, Utah. There will be a visitation at the church prior to services from 10:45 to 11:45 a.m. Burial at Wasatch Lawn Memorial Park.

To all family, My sympathy at the loss of Preaident Livingston. I was privileged to serve under him in the Anaheim Mission my first year and learned much under his leadership. He touched many lives in such an impactful way. I know the void of loss, even as we look forward to the day we meet again. Peace

I have great respect for President Livingston, he was a humble and always cheerful President who provided a great example to us missionaries. We had a special bond due to his ancestry coming from my home area, and was privileged to later have him and his family come visit me in Scotland. I know we will all miss him, but I am sure that he has been welcomed home. Till we meet again.....

Kay and siblings My thoughts and prayers are with you. Know that my life has been enriched and I am a better person for the privilege of having served with you Dad in the mission field. He and your mom were a great example to me. What an honour to have had such a wonderful connection then and since. Our family always enjoyed our visits with them over the years. I'm sure they are both rejoicing at their reunion and your Dad will be grateful to be able to express his thoughts and feelings as he once did. May the Lord be with you -- it is hard, even when expected and a relief in some ways. Do take care. Loads of love Ted and Kath and gang
