

Roxanne F Hadley

FEB 9, 1951 - FEB 7, 2016

Scan to Visit

Table of Contents

Obituary	Page 3
Tribute Wall	Page 4

Roxanne F Hadley

FEB 9, 1951 - FEB 7, 2016

Roxanne F. Hadley

Feb. 9, 1951 – Feb. 7, 2016

Loving Mom, sister, aunt, caregiver, and cherished friend. Thank you for all the memories. We love and miss you. Celebration of Life, Mar. 12, 2016. Contact Tyler at trip_ptc@yahoo.com for details.

Tribute Wall

Roxanne F Hadley

FEB 9, 1951 - FEB 7, 2016

KB

Kim Black posted:

To a wonderful lady that loved purple and life. Kind to everyone. I will watch out for Tyler and his beautiful wife for you my dear friend. Love Kim

March 12 at 1:00 PM

SC

Shauna Nebeker - Technically Challenged posted:

To my dear Rox. You gave me continual friendship and joy when at times, neither one of us had anything else to give. You stood behind me and supported me when I needed you the most. You loved my kids and grandbabies like they were your own. You gave your heart and selflessness to those who needed it. I thank you for being there for me during those dark days and sending me your funny and beautiful ditties. I love you and miss you always! Shauna Nebeker

March 11 at 2:23 PM

TS

Tc Stoner posted:

My sister loved to label. Even now I have hammers and other items sporting my last name. Which brought us to Toll Painting. She dragged me to my first lesson in the basement of some women's house. It was something that bonded us for years and years. I will forever treasure the items of wood I have that she lovingly painted, and repainted, and repainted, as she was a perfectionist. As I watched her strip the wood again and again, I would say "Really, again, please stop abusing that piece of wood"! Sometimes I could sneak it away from her and fix it myself. We spent a lot of time meeting at the craft stores looking for new projects. When she found a store that cut wood she went crazy having them cut all kinds of patterns. Another thing we both loved was battery operated screw drivers. We had all kinds and I can picture her even now on the floor fixing some project needing screws. So every time I pick up my hammer with the name "Hadley" neatly printed on it, I'll have her in my hand and heart.

March 8 at 8:03 AM

JW

Janet Willeitner posted:

Going camping. ..hiking her thru the petroglyphs in vernal...

March 8 at 3:27 AM

Memories only last if you share them

Join us in honoring Roxanne by contributing to a collection of shared memories.

Scan to Visit