I remember that Jimmy used to call me his little duddle bugg and he would bring me a coke and a 3 musketeers bar every time he came to my house.

"We will certainly miss Jimmy at our clinic. His dry wit often came unexpectedly followed by our delayed reactions when we "got it". Jimmy was someone who helped others during his lifetime but found it difficult at times to accept help for himself. He has had loving care from family members over the past few years and told us how much he appreciated them. We are happy to have had Jimmy as a client and will hold on to what he taught us about courage, resilience and humor."We wish comfort and peace for his family and friends.Clinic Staff

My Uncle Jabbo, I was thinking about all our memories together from "uh oh spaghetti O's" to quoting the Christmas Carol when you would sound like them man in chains. You helped me makes my very first friend Button and when she would make me cry you would tell me "Don't cry big brown eyes". You knocked out my first tooth while playing with me and felt terrible but I cry, I I jumped right off your lap ran in to the kitchen and said "Uncle Jabbo helped me with my tooth" The thing I inherited from you is my bossy nature but that's how I know what I want because you knew too. There are a million more memories that I will cherish forever. Thank you for always being on my side and being a light in my dark childhood. Thank you for letting me shine you head. Thank you for showing me what comfort was. I glad you found peace.
