My cousin Amberlee was a precocious, tiny, strong-willed and always barefoot little girl with amazing wild curls. She was also very smart. She loved her family and had a special bond with big brother Josh, they had each other's backs. She also had beautiful babies whom she loved. I saw it up close as our young children were growing together. Then the story we've all witnessed too many times, addiction took hold. Everything changed, ultimately she lost her battle. Each of these losses is too young, too soon and tragic. Fight & resist this epidemic, and above all be diligent in not becoming part of it. I'm sorry this happened to you Ams. I truly wish it had all been different,

❤️ Em
