Our first picture together after prison and then a few in between and towards the end. My heart is broken. My life is forever changed because this is not what we promised to do. We were supposed to last forever and live together for the rest of our lives. You were taken too soon and I struggle every single day. There's not a man alive that will ever take your place. Our kids are so amazing Dennis and we made them. It's so hard to see all of the memories that people post that are void of my name and presence. Me and you and God know, and our kids are proof of our love and life together. I miss you everyday and I pray that you can hear my voice, I need you to hear me honey. I love love love you 🤗😭😭😭😭💔

Can't find the one with us 3 in our windover trip, must be in ur phone still. Lol But life will NEVER be the same without you here making your funny jokes and lettin' loose outta the blue with some of the funniest noises and sound effects I've EVER heard IN LIFE!!! You were hands down Dennis Jones, one of the realist, funniest, down to earth people in my entire life by far. There will always be an empty spot in my heart where you once were my friend. You're home now. The battle is over. Rest In Peace. You will NEVER be forgotten.

Wow Esh, this is so sweet. I love that you posted a picture of me and him. He loved you very much baby. He had a lot of respect for you and we definitely enjoyed our little vacation with you. Thank you for sharing that time with us as it ended up being the last time we went on a road trip that wasn't back and forth to Murray 😭😭. Anyway thank you for coming to his viewing, thank you for your sweet post. It's honestly the only one that I've read that didn't break my heart. Love you. Tara

Dennis, my memories of you, are how you showed your love for your family and friends. And of you laughing at your own jokes, you had a wonderful sense of humor. My main memory is his love for his children, he always had time for them, also, he loved his mom, dad and siblings and appreciated them for everything that they did for you and family. I love you
