Bonnie Coombs lit a candle in honor of Barton.

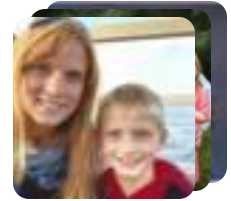

Sorry to here about your loss aunt Peggy, I just found out Uncle Bart passed, I wish we all would have been closer. We don't have a lot of memories with you, or uncle, but the ones we do have were very good ones. Love you Bonnie Jones.

Bart was a big man with a big personality and a big heart. He had the uncanny ability to understand people and what made each person tick. His ownership of a pawnshop seemed to fit his abilities and talents perfectly. He was very successful as a businessman. Our families have been friends for over 60 years and each time we would get together, it was like we had never been apart. The laughs and good times would roll. To be with Bart and Peggy was not just an occasion, it was an event. My husband, Wilbur, and I traveled with them to Branson, Missouri, toured and fished in Alaska, lost money in Las Vegas and Laughlin, Nevada, and had great times when we would visit their various homes in Arizona, Wyoming, and Utah. They ushered in the new century with us at our New Year's Eve party in 2000! Bart and Peggy, as always, added to the frivolities and excitement of the night. Bart will be sorely missed! We loved him dearly and unconditionally. May you Rest In Peace, Bart! You were a treasure of a friend. Sally German Wilbur Birchler
