Bert was a great person I always looked for tie-dye shirts or anything for him. He looked for motorcycle things for me. I'm so sorry for your loss. I was joking with him and traded a gold lord of rings as he offered me a stainless steel band and to me that was ok. I'd love to know if he still has it... Thank you for being a great friend I'll truly miss you

Bert and I grew up together... I'm so sorry to hear of his passing and in such a horrific way... he deserved so much better. The thing I remember the most about Bert was his personality!! He always had us laughing... in school, in church or just hanging out. He had this thing where he could roll his eyes lids back without even touching them... scared quite a few of us gals that way. Bert had a surprisingly hard adult life and my heart is broken because of it... he will be missed by his family of course! But also by all of us who knew the 'real' Bert as well and relished his friendship and his sense of fun. Janeen Parsons Bywater
