How I will miss Becky! Becky and I became friends in high school and have been friends/sisters ever since. I spent more time at her house than I did my own house and got to know her family and became part of them. Becky and I were in contact most of our life but there was a period after I got married that we lost contact. We finally picked up again in time after that. We went through so many things together that there would be no way to name them all. She got to know my sweet husband Greg and all of our children and a lot of our grandchildren and was definitely a part of our family. We didn't always agree with each other in many things but that never took away our friendship. She was the kindest most sweetest and loving friend ever. She would have done anything for anybody. She was truly strong in the church and was always studying almost every time I called her. She was a great example in many ways. I love you becky! I miss you and always will forever. Thank you for being a long time friend. Joyce Ruch
