Carol Anne Stout

DEC 27, 1948 - DEC 26, 2023

Carol Anne Stout (Grammy) returned to her heavenly home on December 26, 2023 an hour before her 75th birthday. Grammy was a strong and stubborn lady who lived life on her terms and passed away on her own terms surprising everyone with her strength and endurance. Grammy and her twin brother George, were born to Beth Glines Brown and George Delbert Barnes on December 27, 1948. They lived with their grandparents Adelia Delila Glines and Horace Little Brown until they were six years old. This was a happy time in her life and Grammy always remembered her time with her grandparents very fondly. Not long after, Beth married Donald Hansen and along came her little sister Annabel. Grammy grew up and learned to work hard. She began working at the age of 16 and retired from the same company after 45 years of service. During this time she married, divorced and raised her two daughters Christina Marie Stout and Chere Michelle Sylvester on her own, giving the girls a charmed childhood. Grammy was a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. She served in many positions in the church from Primary teacher to Relief Society President. She also served a mission with the Church Employment Services. Many of her closest friendships were made while serving the Lord.

The highlight of her life was her grandsons, Colby Michael Sylvester and Tyson John Sylvester.

She loved these boys so much. They made her so proud! Growing up, Grammy never let the girls put pins in the walls of their bedrooms, put any pictures on the fridge, and all the walls in the house had to be painted white. Once the boys came along all this changed. All the walls changed colors, the fridge is so full of pictures of the boys you can hardly see it, and anything that the boys wanted to put on the walls could be hung up. She totally loved the boys way more than her own girls. We, the girls, are so totally okay with that! For somebody who didn't like sports, when her grandsons began to play she became a sports fanatic and attended their games regularly. The boys brought so much love and joy to her! Grammy was preceded in death by her twin brother George Dale Barnes (Carol), mother Beth Hansen (Donald), and her beloved grandparents. She leaves behind her daughters, Christina Marie Stout, Chere Michelle Sylvester, her grandsons Colby and Tyson, and her sister Annabel Ivie (Dan).

Remembering Carol Stout....My Dear Friend, I know you are with George, and you are reconciled with all your earthly companions. I picture you with Carol, George, Sandy, and Nathan on lake Powell. Our friendship goes way back to the years of our up and coming youth; me finding my true comedy path, you safe and warm in your cozy home raising your girls. I would become a standup comedienne, and you a wonderful mother. Though our paths diverged, we visited when time zones and miles tested us. Dust to dust. How much earth have we moved with our rags, brooms, and feather dusters? Perhaps tons over a lifetime, only to discover that dust would win in the end, and we return to it eventually. You overcame so much in your time here – challenges such as hardship, poverty, abandonment, hard work, and project management. You asked nothing more than to make a loving home for your daughters, and so you did, against all odds. We shared coffee, crock pot recipes, ciggies and an occasional drink or two. We survived hair dye and home perms in your warm, fragrant kitchen, and late nights devoted to beauty and girl talk. Your back was stronger then, and your frame was sturdy. You water-skied, hiked, and chased giggling babies in your tidy yard. Your posture was bent forward, as though bucking up against a mighty wind, pulling a heavy load. Well done, my sweet friend. I celebrate a life well lived, and arms filled with abundance, safety, home and hearth. One day you will greet me with your beaming smile and wrap me in a crocheted afghan. Til then, wrap me in your soft wings, and I will love you to the moon and back. Your lifelong friend, Janine Gardner

I only got to share this life with Ms. Carol at the very end, I am so thankful those memories. A few months back she said to me "we will be best friends for the rest of our lives." "Yes ma'am, yes we will." I will always cherish this memory. 💜 Heather Kins

I have known Carol since the 70's and she has always been a very special and sweet person. We car pooled together for work and got to be very close for years. I still have a Mr and Mrs Santa she crocheted for me 40 years ago and they are like new. Carol was the nicest person and would always be there for everyone. Her and her brother George were very close and she loved her girls very much. It's been a few years since I saw her for lunch but it was a happy reunion. She will be so missed. RIP sweet friend.
