My sister and I visited my family friends Jim and Jan Bullion at Christmas. Wes and his family and friends came inside their home to sing carols. He stood out to me. He talked with me and noticed he was such a nice young man and even gave me a hug before leaving. So much respect. Such an amazing experience I had for a Christmas memory. ❤️ prayers go out to his wonderful family and friends.

Wes dated my granddaughter after they shared a wonderful experience at HEFY. He flew out to Washington to take her to a school dance and spend the weekend, each day together they felt it was so precious as they always missed each other and talked regularly via video calls. They read scriptures together and he was always so service oriented and loving that I grew to love him from the side . So for them to sacrifice their personal time to visit Leena's Grandma K, me, an hour away, was so special! We visited out on our deck and he was so genuine, loving, so interested in others, I could not have been more impressed. He gave me a hug as they left and we even messaged a few times and talked on the phone once. I followed him on Facebook and we messaged some more. I love him. I was so sad, yet I can tell Wes is telling me through my tears, "Grandma K, I am ok". He is lifting other still. I have prayed often for Wes's family and close loved ones, and for him.
