I was going through the roughest time in my life. It was Thanksgiving and I didn't have anywhere to go. Not only did Mary Lou and Mike invite me into their home, they treated me like family. They were both so genuine, loving, caring and kind. Going to their home felt like an escape and refuge from the darkness in the world. I am incredibly grateful to have met them and for the memories of laughter and love I will always cherish. Sending love to all their family and friends.
