Thank you to everyone who attended. For those of you who couldn't hear a video will be posted in a week or so. Here is a copy of my speech. Hi my name is Amy DeVore I am Aaron's little sister for those of you who don't know me. First off thank you all for being here and showing your love and support during this incredibly difficult time to our family and for Aaron. I wish we were gathering for a different reason. I would have loved to meet many of you in a different way but unfortunately we are all here to share the pain of losing my brother and the light he shared with all of us. Growing up with Aaron was always an adventure, as little kids we all had a lot of fun together. He was a major influence in my life early on and I followed him anywhere I could. I'll never forget all the backseat bike rides or the chaos we caused in our neighborhood, the friends we made together and the trouble all managed to get in, on a pretty regular basis. If you know you know. As I look back at my childhood; memories are flooded with Aaron and the time we spent together. I cherish all the silly times playing games or just goofing off at home. He always had my back, no matter what!! And I knew I could go to him for anything. He protected me and taught me more than I can put into words. I never forget all the fishing trips with our dad or the Halloween's we would swap costumes just so we could get more candy. Or the time he opened my Barbie for Christmas and got so upset because he didn't understand why Santa would bring him a girl toy. I still suck at mortal combat and most video games but I am fond of all the times you tried to teach me how to play. Because of his fearlessness I always felt safe growing up by his side. Aaron was such a cool kid and I loved being his little sister! He could turn everyday into something fun just by being around him. One of my favorite things about my big brother was his laugh and how it could fill your entire spirit with joy whenever you heard it. I miss it so much. Aaron had a huge heart and loved to his fullest, he gave 100% at anything he set his mind to and is one of the hardest working people I have ever met. I don't know how our family will navigate this world without him in our lives, he had such a big impact on all of us and in such different and personal ways. I know many of you here today have a hole in heart and I sympathize with all of you. I'm so sorry we have to endure this struggle but know that you are not alone, take a look around this room and please recognize the love. Aaron was big on that and shared love with anyone he crossed paths with. Memories now become treasures as we all mourn the loss of such an amazing person, father, son, brother, friend, hero, or companion. Losing him only 2 years after our mother is going to take a lot of strength to persevere but together we will get through this and learn how cope. Air bear if you are listening I love you, I miss you and can't wait to see you again! Weeeeeeeee

To the Family of Aaron Devore, I've been holding Aaron in my heart and thoughts, and I wanted to reach out to share my deepest condolences. I can't begin to imagine the pain you're experiencing, but I hope you feel surrounded by love and support in this difficult time. Aaron was a truly special person. He had a way of making people laugh and feel at ease, and I feel incredibly grateful to have known him. One memory I'll always cherish is watching him play with our 4-year-old. He joked with us, asking if our son was really his because he had so much energy—just like Aaron. He was the only one who could keep up, and the joy they shared was contagious. That moment captured Aaron's humor, his warmth, and the way he connected so effortlessly with others. Brennan Sterling Krieger and I will never forget him or the kindness he showed us during our own time of need. He gave us comfort when we needed it most, and we love him so much. His presence in our lives was a gift, and his absence is felt deeply. Even his dogs seem to carry the weight of his absence. There's a quietness in them now, a shift that's hard to miss. They were so connected to him, and it's clear they feel the loss too. I know there are no easy answers, and I won't pretend to understand the pain he was carrying. But I do know that he was deeply loved—not just by you, but by so many of us who were lucky enough to call him a friend. Please know that I'm here for you. Whether you need someone to talk to, share stories with, or simply sit in silence—I'm just a call away. With all my love and sympathy, Ashlee

Aaron was one of the best people I have ever worked with. Always willing to help and go above and beyond. When I heard the news I was numb. He was a special kind of person you just don't get to meet every day. My heart goes out to his wife, daughters and family. I will always miss him.

So sorry to hear of Aaron's passing. I spoke with him recently and he asked me to look for some pictures of the girls and enjoyed catching up with him. Aaron was a good Son-in-law and did his best to take care of Anne and was always a good provider for his family. Although their married life came to an end, Anne always considered him her best friend. Matt always thought of him as a brother. Even though this is so very sad, we are finding comfort in knowing they are all together again. Ed and Linda Madsen

I met Aaron through Tyler and my niece Nikki. I lived in Colorado and would go to visit them on occasion. Every time I was there, Aaron would come over and we would play games or watch football. Aaron had a sense of humor and laugh that was contagious. He always made me feel like family. I hadn't seen Aaron in several years, but I will always remember him and the joy he brought to all around him.
