My dear friend Vi was always happy to have afriens stop by and pass the time of day awhile We spent good times together coloring, and our latest endeavor was attending some painting classes at the senior center She was so sure that we'd have some hidden talent somewhere!! In fact she even framed her first picture and hung it on the wall! We also enjoyed ourselves at several senior center lunches followed by some bingo playing She even had her special "lucky bingo cards" set aside for her to use each week! She made alot of friends there, as usual for her. Vi's house became the place to be on Christmas Eve--friends and family enjoyed good food, some games to play and some good Christmas cheer! And one more thing to remember is her love of See's Chocolates!! Many happy memories and I will surely miss her!! From Brenda
