Christine Lynn Morgan

APR 10, 1949 - JAN 9, 2026

Christine Lynn Morgan, 76, of Taylorsville, Utah passed away peacefully with her loved ones by her side. Chris was born April 10th, 1949 to Melvin and Jean Kramer.

She was a woman who poured her whole heart into the people she loved. Her children and grandchildren were her greatest joy, and she carried immense pride in each of them. They were truly the center of her world, and she never missed a chance to celebrate their accomplishments, big or small. She proudly spent years raising one of her grandsons, Triston, creating a bond filled with laughter, lessons, and unconditional love.

She had a bright, spirited personality that made her unforgettable. She loved warm days, blooming flowers, butterflies, and finding the perfect pair of cute sandals. Some of her happiest moments were spent traveling and going on adventures with her husband to see new things and new places. She enjoyed dinner dates and shopping sprees with her friends that usually turned into a little trouble. She also adored the simple comfort of having a Beans & Brews coffee delivered to her while she watched the news or caught up on her favorite soap operas. And in true her fashion, she wasn't afraid to be a little spicy — she had no problem giving someone the bird when the moment called for it, always with that signature spark that made everyone laugh.

Her kindness, humor, and unapologetic authenticity touched everyone who knew her. She created a life filled with connection, joy, and memories that will be cherished forever.

Chris is survived by her husband of 22 years, Monty; her children, Brent (Shauna), Melonie (Mike), Jim (TaLeah), Mike (Angie), Josh (Jessica); her brother Robert (Nancy), her sister-in-law Pam; her best friend Sally (Scott); 12 grandchildren and 8 great grandchildren. She is preceded in death by her parents; her brothers David and Craig and sister Carol; sons Nayt and Justin.

Her family wishes to thank the wonderful caregivers at The Legacy House and Health Watch Hospice whose kindness and gentle care brought comfort and joy to her last days.

Usually, when I was with Chris, my husband Rob (her youngest brother) was there, too. What I remember best was the back and forth teasing between them. Both Chris and Rob were quick with their barbs. Chris could give a comeback remark as quick as any seasoned comedian. She was funny, sarcastic, with an unmatched wit. I loved watching the comradery, as I knew it came from a place of deep love. Chris may have been six years older than Rob, but no two siblings could have been closer. I will miss my dynamic sister-in-law more than words can say.

Many many happy memories of my big sister, Chrissy. (I was the only one she allowed to call her that). Chrissy was my protector (from my brothers) my teacher and my friend. She loaned me her huge Schwinn bike when I could barely ride. She let me hang out with her and her friends, and later, she even let me hang out with her and her boyfriends (she had a few). As a teenager she worked at Woolworths at the diner counter. I'd ride my bike to visit her there when she was working. Chrissy would treat me to a malt or sundae. She never revealed to me that she had to pay for those treats out of her own pocket. I thought she got free food. But that was the nature of her love and generosity. When she got married we still stayed close. When I could drive, I'd come and visit her. I became the primary babysitter of her adorable children. I was Uncle "Bobert". She lived for those kids and it was easy to love them too. In our later years, our discussions were about our children and grandchildren. Chrissy just lit up when she talked about her kids. Chrissy and I continued to support each other through some of the biggest challenges in our lives. We knew we could count on each other and we never had to face anything alone. I will keep these wonderful memories with me and relive them often. That way, she will always be with me.
