

Brad Lee Pace

May 16, 1955 - March 29, 2012

Brad Lee Pace was born on May 16th, 1955 in Salt Lake City, Utah with his mother Arleen and father Arvill Pace. He passed away suddenly, March 29th, 2012. Brad was an adventurous man to say the least. He was participating in a lot of hunting, fishing, and camping activities with family and friends. He is survived by his parents Arvill and Arleen Pace and his five siblings. Also survived by his best friend, his dog "Brox". His son Jeremy (Joann,) his daughters, Amanda, Jessica (Freddy,) and Amiee (Chris.) He also survived by his eight grandchildren, Trever, Miranda, Jared, Marisa, Kylee, Carson, Mario, Cree, his step grandchildren, Steven, Kaiden, Hunter, Sydney, and Cortland "Little Red." He follows his wife Deborah Joyce Pace six years after her death due emphysema. Brad and Debbie were not only lovers, but also best friends that could count on each other throughout the years. The service will held Saturday, April 7th, at 55 East, 930 North in Farmington, Utah (Take the Farmington Parkway Exit.) It will start at 1 PM. We love and will miss you always Grandpa B! "Love lift us up where we belong."

“ Jessica, Jeremy, Amanda, Amiee, and the rest of the family I am so sorry about Brad passing away. Brad and Debbie loved each other so much. It's not often that we find that kind of love in our lives. They are together again, and will always be in the hearts of those they left here on Earth. I love you all so much, and hope that good memories will help you all through this extremely hard time. Rest in Paradise Brad. Monica

“ Brad, I didn't get the chance to really be with you as long as I wanted to, but the small time I did get with you. I could tell you were the greatest grandpa like your hat! I miss those jammies you wore ALL THE TIME, not to mention we were Denver fans together. I wish I could've been with you longer, to really get to know you and go to some of my games. I promise I'll watch Trever for you. I know he misses you a whole lot. I love you Brad, and I'll miss you.
