

Clark Alan Workman

May 26, 1966 - December 17, 2019

Clark Alan Workman passed away peacefully on December 17, 2019 surrounded by his family. He is survived by his father; siblings three brothers Robert, James, Josh and one sister Deanna, and by his father. He is preceded by two mothers, Valda and Shiela. Clark was born May 26, 1966 in Rosa de Lima Hospital, Henderson Nevada to Ernest Dee Workman and Valda Mae Keeler.

He played little league baseball. He was a very good pitcher. At the age of 12 he had brain surgery which left him many challenges throughout his life! During his time in the hospital, dad Snuck in a puppy for Clark, that mom and dad had promised him if he was brave and went through the surgery. Since then he has had several dogs over the years, he loved them, and they were his companions. He was in a coma for several months after the surgery. He had to learn how to walk and talk again after the surgery.

He Attended Basic High school in Henderson Nevada, and Graduated from Granger High School in West Valley City Utah. He attended one year of college at, what was then the College of Southern Utah, now Southern Utah University.

When he was older he served his church as a missionary, in the Little Rock, Arkansas Mission. He had many fond memories of his mission. He never married, but loved to be around his family! His nieces and nephews were a substitute for his own children. Clark loved to shop at Walmart, play card games, and bowl and play billards.

'Tis the gift to be simple, 'Tis the gift to be free,
Tis the gift to come down where we ought to be
And when we find ourselves in the place just right,
'Twill be in the valley of love and delight.
When true simplicity is gain'd
To bow and to bend we will not be asham'd
To turn, turn will be our delight,
Till by turning, turning we come round right.

Simpler forms of metals are more easily tempered in many instances, this tempering is used to create a toughness, such as in an Iron based alloy.

Clark was tempered and felt being hammered, so to speak, much in life. He knew that it was because Heavenly Father loved him, and wanted to make him Tougher. Because of this, Clark also had a special ability to understand others in their difficult situations. The meek shall inherit the earth.

Funeral services will be held at 11:00 am, Saturday, December 21, 2019 at the Welby 8th Ward, 8385 South 4800 West, West Jordan, Utah, with a viewing to begin at 10:00 am. Interment to follow at Valley View Memorial Park, 4335 West 4100 South, West Valley City, Utah.

“ I learned today of Clark’s passing. What a powerful impact he was in my life! I met Clark at Granger High School. I was a year older than him. We also lived in the same stake but not the same ward. I don’t remember exactly but I think I was introduced to Clark by Lisa Kilburn. At the least, I know Lisa was his friend as well.

Because we lived in the same neighborhood I would sometimes give Clark a ride home from school. He liked to talk to me about playing the trumpet because he used to play before his surgery, and I played trumpet in the Jazz band at school. Clark liked to bowl and I took him a couple times to Delton Lanes on 3500 South near the high school to go bowling.

As life goes, I lost contact with Clark after high school. We did happen to cross paths several years ago in West Jordan. I was so happy to see him and he still remembered me.

Clark helped me begin to learn as a teenager how to think about somebody else’s needs and challenges and get outside myself. I’m glad to say he was my friend and I’m so very happy for him that he is now free of physical limitations while he waits for a glorious resurrection he most assuredly deserves!
