“ It is inconceivable Corrina has passed over at such a young age, but I know who came for her so I also know she is just fine and no longer suffers. It is those who know her love that suffer now, wishing to be embraced by it again.

I found this poem online, so well put...

TIME

They say that time can heal all wounds and this I know is true,

So time is what it's going to take For every one of you.

And when enough time has gone by in weeks or months or years,

Fond memories of the times you've shared, will then replace your tears.

But as for now a brand new star lights up the Heaven blue,

Brightening up the darkest nights to help you make it through.

And even though God called her home, she's never really gone,

Remaining always in your heart, her memory will live on.

Look after us our beloved Corrina, you know we need looking after.

“ You were one of the most strongest, loving women I have met. Even through all of the struggles and obstacles you had placed in your path you always made the best of it and kept a smile on your face. You raised 3 amazing girls, who are showing the strongest sides through this tragedy. You have left them with the strength and courage to get through this. Just know that they are surrounded by all the many loved ones whose lives you have touched and family who are helping them get through this and will continue to be there when they need us the most. I am going to miss one of the most cherished memories of all us girls during thanksgiving making tamakes, remincing on old times jamming out to music until 2am. And the camping trips, waking up to you making breakfast, it always tastes so much better we both would say. You made me feel as one of the family and not just a sister in-law. The love you had for my kids was like they were your own, from the moment Anthony was born he was like the son you never had, he was your "fat boy"...and he loves you just as much as me and at times a little more. LOL, when he is in trouble and wants to go live with his Auntie. He has lost a part of him with you gone. My heart is broken with Tony not able to be home with all of us and not able to say his goodbyes, I know you can now see him like you always talked about, how much you couldn't wait for him to be home. He is broken too and holding strong. We love you and will always hold a special place for you in our hearts....love always and forever Anjela, Tony, Anthony (your "fat boy"), Alyzea and Alicia Carlson.
