“ He was a very intuitive person and humorous, served in the military as a sharpshooter and a great grandpa, he had Type 2 diabetes and was in bad health, he died of a heart attack and they couldn't revive him, but he lives on in our hearts, he had his wife, Pam though the website states they were "Best friends" because they weren't legally married regardless they spent many years loving and caring for each other, Much love May you rest in peace and find happiness in another life

Sincerely: Corbyn, Grandson.
