Jean Elizabeth Meadows passed away peacefully in her sleep June 23, 2020 at home with her loved ones by her side. Jean, or Mawmaw as we all lovingly called her, was 85 years old. Originally from Indianola, Mississippi she lived in Texas for a while where she met her first husband Emmett Hurt. Later, she spent many years in St Louis, Missouri where she worked for Ozark Airlines in the reception department. Later, her and her daughter, Glenda, moved to Hattiesburg after finding some brothers she had not known previously. She worked for Murray Envelope for many years as the secretary in the Print Shop before retiring. She raised many children as a babysitter and Sunday School teacher for 25 years as well. She liked nothing better than planting and caring for flowers. We called her the "Plant Whisperer" because she could take a burnt plant and revive it. “ Could always expect to be greeted with a smile and big hug, except when it had been a while and she tried to play mad for a few minutes. Maw Maw was such a kind soul and will deeply miss the talks we would have as she showed me her coloring books she been working on. Fly high Maw Maw, love you.

“ Mawmaw was my mother n law for 42 years. Although we had disagreements at times it was never serious and we were over it soon. I don't know if anyone could have had a better relationship with their mother n law than I did with Mawmaw. Many years ago I started rubbing and messing her hair up. My last contact with her just before they left with her was to mess her hair up one last time. R I P in Gods presence until we all meet again. I love you and will miss you for the rest of my life.
