Kelton Dale Duffy

1990 - 2020

Kelton Dale Duffy born August 28, 1990 in Provo, Utah. He passed away at the home of his parents on May 12, 2020, in Orem, Utah. Kelton is the son of Jon and Sheri Duffy. Kelton was an adventurous little boy who could often be found raiding the neighbor's fridge or racing the hills in a wagon. In Jr. High he ran track and loved running with his black lab, Abby. He played basketball and football in high school and graduated from Timpanogos High School. He received the rank of Eagle Scout and loved the outdoors. He attended UVU and Bossier Parish Community College.

Although Kelton's life was cut short, he lived a full and adventurous life. Kelton had an unquenchable thirst for learning. He loved history and knowing facts and details about everything. Kelton had a deep sense for adventure. Although he was able to travel many places in the world, he was the happiest in the mountains with a backpack and his dog Ruby at his side. Kelton was a gentle giant with the biggest heart. He truly cared about the one.

Kelton is survived by his parents Jon and Sheri, his brothers Tyler (Gio), AJ (Marissa) and Logan, nephews Kohen and Nixon and niece Lua. He is also survived by his grandparents David and Bonnie Sorensen and Karen Kaye Duffy. Kelton has many aunts, uncles and cousins who will deeply miss him.

“ Kelton was my first friend I ever made out here when I moved to Utah 8 months ago. He loved sharing stories of his travels and had an awesome sense of humor! He was very generous guy and even though we hadn't known each other long, he let me borrow his Xbox for a couple weeks since I didn't have one. I will miss his friendship greatly. All my thoughts and prayers for the Duffy family on this difficult time. We'll miss you Kelton.

“ Sherry,
I'm so sorry to hear about Kelton. I grew up with you. Kelton's birthday is the day after my oldest son. He really has a great smile. This is great that there is a place to share memories. My second son passed away 8 mos. ago. I feel the heartache a mother feels and didn't know was possible. I hope you'll write down what you can right now. The little things that happen every day will be enormous later. Please know you're loved. I remember your sweet and sassy self in the neighborhood. I appreciate your efforts and kindness toward me way back then. I hope you feel the peace you so deserve right now.

“ I grew up with Kelton and I have many memories with him from elementary school to the time we graduated from high school. He was funny and a little reclusive but he was almost always around when we did things and made any activity we did funner. Two of the main things that I remember about Kelton was that:

1. He was funny and was a great impressionist. In third grade we had a teacher whose eyes bulged out when she got angry and no one did a better impression of her than Kelton. That talent to make us laugh followed him as far as I could remember.
2. Kelton was hard working. I don't remember Kelton always being that way but later on in high school he decided he wanted to start playing basketball. I don't know what spurred that decision for him because I don't remember him being a member of the basketball team before that, but he decided he wanted to make the cut later on in high school. Kelton was tall and athletic, but since he didn't grow up playing basketball as much of the other players on the team, it meant he had to put in extra work to develop his talent. Some of us used to hang out in the gym after gym pretty often in high school and I always remember Kelton in the gym doing drills and trying to improve in little areas so he could become a better basketball player. The same was true of him in the gym. He was tall and skinny growing up, but when he put his mind in to working out, he got incredibly strong fast. I was always impressed at how hard working Kelton was when he put his mind to it.

While I lost contact with Kelton and many of my other friends from high school after graduating, I still remember Kelton and his influence on me. He was a good man and was a part of what shaped me into who I am today. I will miss him.

I pray for peace, happiness, happy memories, and none of the pain for the rest of the Duffy family. You raised a beautiful boy and I hope you remember him as such.

“ Kelton was so special and meant so much to me. He made me so happy. Every activity, date, concert, hike was a unique memorable moment of joy for me. I can’t describe the grief and heart ache I feel knowing he has moved on, but I also learned from him to be grateful for the time he gave me and I’ll cherish those memories forever.
