She worked as a ward nurse at Danvers State Hospital, and completed her LPN training in 1983. Mom was a woman with a servant's heart, charitable, strong and kind. She was our seed of wisdom for all who knew and loved her. Often, she shared her time generously with her neighbors and others in need. Her family's wellness and happiness were a priority. She held her faith deep in her heart. She guided her family with a strong rule and a velvet glove. She was extremely supportive of the programs her children were involved in. She was loving, protective, forthright and raised her family with values for success. She had a beautiful partnership with her husband, together they loved, taught, supported and provided for our family.

Pat loved animals, gardening, reading, puzzles, word searches and dancing! She was a doer and enjoyed puttering and fixing things. She was not afraid of hard work or manual labor. She loved people, and was a great host, and celebrated many gatherings in her home.
